INTERNATIONAL SPORT FOR ALL

ANNUAL REPORT 2019

President's Words

2019 has been an exceptional year for not only TAFISA but for the entire Global Sport for All Movement.

The highlight of the year was the 26th TAFISA World Congress which took place from 13th to 17th November in Tokyo, Japan. Featuring a historic joint event with the Smart Cities and Sport Summit, the Congress gathered 600 participants from 78 countries which was the biggest to date!

In addition to the Congress, 2019 witnessed the 1st TAFISA World Martial Arts Festival in Ulyanovsk, Russia, further development of the TAFISA Mission 2030 platform setting the course for the Global Sport for All Movement, continuation of several projects co-funded by the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Commission, Certified Leader Courses (including the first in the Spanish language), growth of members, stakeholders and partners, as well as ongoing collaborations with global organisations and partners such as the IOC, WHO, UNESCO and NIKE, Inc. All of this has undeniably strengthened TAFISA and provided opportunities for education, promotion and advocacy to better support the Sport for All Family.

Following on from the successes of 2019, we are intent to achieve even more in 2020, which will see the 7th TAFISA World Sport for All Games in Lisbon, Portugal. To reach even further in the next year, we need to work even closer with you – the TAFISA Family - as we cannot achieve success without your continued dedication, commitment and support.

Join us on our journey for a Better World.
Together, we are stronger!

HORST SEEHOFER
Federal Minister of the Interior,
Building and Community, Germany

"In Germany, as in many other countries around the world, sport plays an extremely important role, and rightly so!

Taking part in sport is not just an attractive leisure-time activity; it also enhances health and general well-being. Furthermore, sport promotes values such as respect, loyalty, team spirit and fair play. It connects people across cultural, social, religious and language barriers, helping to foster identification with a group and encourage a feeling of community. International competitions provide an opportunity for everyone to experience how sport promotes solidarity and tolerance between different cultures.

The Federal Ministry of the Interior, Building and Community is primarily responsible for top-level sport in Germany. But the relationship between top-level sport and sport for all is mutually beneficial: Sport for all prepares the ground for the development of top athletes. The more attractive the framework conditions of sport for all, the more likely it is to produce top-level athletes who serve as role models for young people in particular. Top-level athletes need space and support in order to develop their potential in a targeted way.

Of course sport for all also requires support, since it depends on active participants and spectators, supporters and coaches who are the lifeblood of sport clubs. I have the greatest respect for the numerous volunteers who put their often scarce free time at the service of the community. Sport for all crucially depends on these people. In my capacity as minister responsible for sport,

I attach particular importance to sporting events such as the Gymnaestrada, the biggest worldwide festival of gymnastics, and the International German Gymnastics Festival. These events provide a showcase where athletes and volunteers can reap the fruits of their labours.

The Association for International Sport for All (TAFISA) is the global institution working in 175 countries and at the international level to promote sport for all. Each year, it organizes events in almost every continent that promote the idea of sports and thus contribute to international understanding. TAFISA advocates for people all over the world and provides them with access to sports. I wish TAFISA continued success in carrying out its mission to make the world a more peaceful place by fostering the values of sport."

CAITLIN MORRIS
General Manager, Social & Community Impact,
NIKE, Inc.

"TAFISA plays a crucial leadership role in the Sport for All Movement: connecting people around the globe who are doing this important work, lending worldwide reach to the research and strengthening our collective commitment. TAFISA informs the work that NIKE, Inc., does every day to unleash human potential through early, positive experiences in play, sport and movement. Achieving the goals of TAFISA's Mission 2030 demands accelerated action: by sharing best practices and key learnings along the way, we all win."

FÉLICITÉ RWEMARIKA
IOC Member (Rwanda), Member IOC Sport &
Active Society Commission

"In sport, we are all equal. Sport is a universal language. Sport is for all people, regardless of background, age, gender, culture, belief or ability. This is why sport unites us all. Promoting sport for all is the focus of the long-standing cooperation between the IOC and TAFISA with a shared belief in the power of sport to promote health, education, gender equality and many other aspects in major urban areas around the world."

VITOR PATACO
Chairman, Portuguese Institute of Sport and Youth

"The 7th TAFISA World Sport for All Games Lisbon 2020 will offer a unique display of cultural diversity as delegations from all over the world showcase their Traditional Sports and Games as well as more modern disciplines, exemplifying the Games' motto "Together through Sport for All". With more than 50,000 participants from over 100 delegations expected from as many countries, including Portugal, the Games will be a major event on the Global Sport for All calendar of 2020."

ANDREAS SILBERSACK
Vice-President Sport for All and Sport
Development German Olympic Sports
Confederation

"As a pioneer in the field of sport for development, a founding member of TAFISA and a strong supporter of the Global Sport for All Movement, DOSB is proud to host the 28th TAFISA World Congress in 2023, inviting TAFISA members, partners and stakeholders from all continents to Düsseldorf in Germany to exchange and share ideas on using Sport for All to make the world a better place."

TAFISA Mission 2030

TAFISA Mission 2030: "For a Better World Through Sport for All" is the guiding document for a global strategy to fight the worldwide physical inactivity epidemic.

Today, our people and our world face challenges and threats on a diverse scale never seen before - from climate change to civil unrest, non-communicable diseases, isolation, oppression, poverty, terrorism and the threat of nuclear war. These are not problems unique to any one demographic, geography, belief system or political status. These are global problems, faced by all of us; our friends, our neighbours, our families, our children. Without immediate and effective change, generations to come will not enjoy the world as we have done. The world they will live in will be a lesser world than ours. This is not only not fair, but unacceptable... and preventable.

TAFISA Mission 2030 provides a foundation for action and growth of the Sport for All and physical activity Movement to create a better world between now and 2030. TAFISA Mission 2030 was adopted by the TAFISA General Assembly in Seoul, Korea, on November 16, 2017.

Respect in Sport and through Sport

Leading a series of transversal topics spanning the themes of Mission 2030, the first Workbook: "Respect in Sport and through Sport" has been published. Undeniably, respect is necessary for all sporting activities; organised or spontaneous, grassroots or elite, urban or rural, regional, national or international, etc.

Fair play, tolerance, mutual acceptance, healthy body and mind, teamwork, the spirit of community, cultural heritage and diversity - all of which are not only essential in the sporting sphere but can also be summarised under the attitude of respect.

Martial Arts and Sport for All - For a Better World

On 13-17 September 2019, the region of Ulyanovsk in Russia hosted the 1st TAFISA World Martial Arts Festival. This new TAFISA event aimed to share the values and benefits of Martial Arts and promote their historical and cultural significance to society.

The Festival celebrated the diversity of Martial Arts as delegations from all around the world presented their discipline to 20,000 spectators through performances, demonstrations, clinics, master classes and connected events in Ulyanovsk, Russia. The Festival showcased both traditional and modern disciplines, not only as forms of sport or art, but also displaying how Martial Arts can be utilised to positively impact people's lives. The Festival featured Martial Arts such as Capoeira (Brazil), Krav Maga (Israel), Hapkido (Korea), Aikido, Kyokushinkai Karate, Silat (Malaysia), Viking traditional fighting (Denmark), Taekwondo (Korea) and more, along with Russian traditional Martial Arts such as Sambo, Knife Fighting, Mas-Wrestling, Tatar Kuresh, Buryatian Buche-Barildaan or Cossack Martial Arts among others.

Martial artists performing also engaged audiences in popular places such as Ulyanovsk's iconic Sobornaya Square, the Akkra Mall and the modern Volga Sports Arena, encouraging people to try out various disciplines and appreciate how accessible and fun Martial Arts can be for everyone. On the event's "School Day", delegations visited schools in Ulyanovsk to introduce their Martial Arts to children and encourage them to participate and become physically active. During the Festival, around 40 master classes were hosted across the region, providing 29,000 martial artists with unique opportunities to train under recognised masters in their discipline.

The Festival was concluded with a Forum on "Martial Arts and Sport for All - For a Better World", further emphasising the need for a change of paradigm in the Martial Arts world and bringing organisations to work together to make Martial Arts more accessible and inclusive, and tap their full potential to create a better world. On this occasion, TAFISA presented the TAFISA Martial Arts Awards to individuals who used Martial Arts to build a better world (see Awards p.44).

TAFISA would like to thank the Government of Ulyanovsk Region, Russian Union of Martial Arts, Ulcongress and the Organising Committee, all volunteers and delegations without whom the Festival would not have been so successful.

- The Festival was successfully organised under the leadership of Ulyanovsk Government Chairman Alexander Smekalin (below) and Ulyanovsk Governor Sergey Morozov

26th TAFISA World Congress, Tokyo, Japan

From 13-17 November, the 26th TAFISA World Congress gathered a record-breaking 600 participants from 78 countries across all continents, becoming the most attended TAFISA World Congress ever hosted. Organisations and stakeholders from all over the world came together in Tokyo to meet, exchange, and discuss ideas and strategies to better use and promote Sport for All to create a better world.

True to its main theme "Sport for All through Tradition and Innovation", the 2019 edition of the Congress was unique and innovative, featuring a Joint-Event Day with the Smart Cities & Sport Summit on 14 November which is a historic first for the Global Sport for All Movement. The Joint-Event Day emphasised the need to build bridges and work together to solve the global physical inactivity crisis and this message was perfectly exemplified by creating a platform where stakeholders from both the TAFISA World Congress (National Olympic Committees, Sport Ministries, Sport for All Federations, International Federations, International Organisations, etc.) and from the Smart Cities & Sport Summit (Cities and Municipalities) joined forces and shared their knowledge and experience.

The TAFISA World Congress and Joint-Event Day started with words of welcome by the Chairman of the Organising Committee Masatoshi Ito, TAFISA President Prof. Ju-Ho Chang, World Union of Olympic Cities Secretary General Mélanie Duparc, IOC Sport and Active Society Commission Member Felicite Rwemarikwa, and Nippon Foundation Chairman and WHO Leprosy Elimination Goodwill Ambassador Yohei Sasakawa. Keynotes by Prof. Stuart Biddle, Prof. Daichi Suzuki (Japan Sports Agency), Prof. Keith George (Liverpool John Moores University) and Caitlin Morris (Nike) highlighted how innovative evidence-based policy and programmes successfully engage the physically inactive.

Parallel sessions on Gender Equality in Sport for All, Global Active City, Active City Innovation and Adapting Cities to an Aging Society provided participants with insightful views, and the Joint-Event Day was then concluded with the launch of a Call for Action on Sport and Active Cities. Additionally, TAFISA and the World Union of Olympic Cities sealed their future cooperation with the signing of a Memorandum of Understanding.

The Opening Ceremony featured a keynote from Japan Sports Agency Commissioner Dr. Daichi Suzuki

The TAFISA World Congress went on for an additional two days, featuring the famous House of Commons which prompted heated debates among participants on topics questioning the relevance of the Sport for All Movement, the necessity for evidence-based practice and the very essence of Sport for All: is sport actually and effectively for all?

After the House of Commons, the TAFISA Workshop provided a report and update on TAFISA Mission 2030 and urged all actors of the Sport for All Movement to share their ideas, knowledge and expertise to create a better world, while parallel sessions aligned with the Congress' sub-themes: Happy Aging, Made to Play, Design Your Policy and Impact Through Innovation.

On the final day, participants had a chance to walk the walk and be active as they experienced Japanese "Undo-kai", a fun sporting event where teams play fun games in a friendly and inclusive spirit.

The Closing Ceremony saw TAFISA Awards presented to the individuals and organisations who have contributed to the Global Sport for All Movement (see Awards p.44). The Congress then came to an end as Japan symbolically passed on the TAFISA flag to the organiser of the 27th TAFISA World Congress 2021, Portoroz, Slovenia.

TAFISA would like to thank the Organising Committee, its staff and volunteers, without whom the Congress would not have been nearly as successful, as well as the Smart Cities & Sport Summit for their commitment to design a historic Joint-Event Day together with TAFISA, and of course all Congress participants for their enthusiasm and efforts in creating a Better World through Sport for All.

TAFISA & IOC Partnership

With the support of the

INTERNATIONAL
COMMITTEE

TAFISA is proud to be recognised by – and work in close cooperation with – the International Olympic Committee. This long-standing partnership (since 2010) led both parties to sign a 4-year agreement in 2017 including the following activities for 2019:

1. Organisation of TAFISA Certified Leadership Courses across the world (see p.13 for more details).
2. Leadership, in partnership with Evaleo, of the Global Active City project (see p.12 for more information).
3. Coordination of a research project on Sport for All and physical activity participation within the Olympic Movement. For this project, TAFISA undertook desktop research and surveys of Sport for All policies, programmes and events led by all National Olympic Committees, International Federations and present and future Olympic Cities. Interesting programmes and events were selected to identify success factors for the multiplication of impactful practices.
4. Support to the IOC in the Sport and Active Society Development Grants process.

TAFISA's strong partnership with the IOC is also documented by the renewed appointment of TAFISA's Secretary General Wolfgang Baumann in the IOC Sport and Active Society Commission, whose meeting he attended on 12 January in Lausanne, Switzerland.

The Sport for All and Olympic families continuously exchange with each other as, in 2019, around 60 National Olympic Committees are TAFISA members.

TAFISA thanks the IOC for its ongoing support.

IOC Sport and Active Society Development Grants

Every year, in alignment with the IOC's continued support to sport and Olympic Agenda 2020, the IOC Sport and Active Society Commission offers development grants to Non-Governmental Organisations, International and National Sports Federations using sport for social development. Applications typically open in November.

TAFISA and IOC Presidents Meet in Lausanne

TAFISA President Prof. Ju-Ho Chang and TAFISA Secretary General Wolfgang Baumann met with IOC President Dr. Thomas Bach on 9 September in Lausanne to discuss the current and future cooperation between TAFISA and the IOC. The TAFISA President took this opportunity to hand over a Memorandum to the IOC President, which included recommendations on how the IOC could strengthen sport and physical activity participation within the Olympic Movement. During their stay in Switzerland, the TAFISA delegation also met with GAISF Director Philippe Gueisbuhler to exchange on how to better involve International Federations in Sport for All.

A Closer Collaboration with UNESCO

In 2019, TAFISA and UNESCO continue their partnership with a focus on Traditional Sports and Games and capacity-building.

As an organisation in official partnership with UNESCO, TAFISA could also apply to its participation programme and was selected to organise the "Women Leadership Mentorship Through Sport for All" Seminar on March 20-23 in Johannesburg, South Africa, which empowered young women to lead the Sport for All Movement with a focus on gender equality, in partnership with the African Union Sport Council Region 5 (see more information p.8).

TAFISA, as a member of the Permanent Consultative Council (PCC), attended the annual meeting of CIGEPS (Intergovernmental Committee for Physical Education and Sport) from 28-29 March in Geneva, Switzerland. The aim of the meeting was the finalisation of the Kazan Action Plan and the relaunch of CIGEPS statutes. Among the main points in the agenda, there was the focus on strengthening the UN System's and Member States' engagements in Sport Development and Peace (SDP). Attended by about 80 participants from all over the world, it was an excellent networking opportunity to exchange ideas.

This UNESCO Committee includes experts in the field of physical education and sport from 18 UNESCO Member States. CIGEPS goal is to promote sports, its role and value, and to enhance its inclusion in public policy. TAFISA has been a member of the PCC since 2011 and sits every year at the CIGEPS meetings. Together with UN agencies and NGOs, PCC supports and advises CIGEPS on the directions to go. This was particularly significant in the lead-up to the adoption of the Kazan Action Plan in July 2017.

TAFISA's work and expertise in the field of Traditional Sports and Games is widely recognised and TAFISA is grateful for UNESCO's patronage of the 7th TAFISA World Sport for All Games, Lisbon, Portugal, 1-7 October 2020 (see more information on p.38).

Erasmus+ Europe in Action

Selected by the European Commission in 2019 as a co-funded project from 2020 – 2022, “Europe in Action” will be led by TAFISA along with the involvement of eight partner organisations: Association Sport for All Serbia, Cyprus Sports Organisation, Knowledge Centre for Sport Netherlands, Ministry of Culture and Sports/General Secretariat of Sports of Greece, Ministry of Sport of the Republic of Poland, Portuguese Institute of Sport and Youth, Sports Union of Slovenia and Turkish Sport for All Federation.

Europe in Action will undertake an innovative and specialised approach to transfer fundamental and topical European key policy areas in the field of grassroots sport into priorities for practical action. The research and analysis of existing EU policy will enable key themes to be extrapolated and formed in a way which allows streamlining into the agenda of stakeholders responsible for national and local policy and practical implementation.

The process of transferring theory into practical action will encompass the following elements:

- Knowledge creation and sharing of key European policy areas (“themes”). An analysis of existing European grassroots sport policy will lead to the sharing of specific themes which require attention in Europe, these may

The Europe in Action website will be launched in early 2020. Stay updated here www.tafisa.org/Erasmus/Europe_in_Action

- include: Gender Equality, Social Inclusion, Cultural, Heritage & Diversity, Economic Impact & Resources, Health & Well-being, Environment, Education, etc.).
- The creation and implementation of Educational Modules based upon key themes which will be piloted throughout the 3-year project but then offered across Europe thereafter as a tool to educate key stakeholders in the field of grassroots sport.
 - Grassroot sport conferences in two different regions in Europe to invite key stakeholders for networking, knowledge sharing and the presentation of best practices, across Europe and region-specific.

Training the Female Sport for All Leaders of Tomorrow

2020 will be a year where TAFISA will focus on its Mission 2030’s theme “Gender Equality”, as well as on engaging more youth to promote a better world through Sport for All. Selected by the European Commission in 2019 as a project that will be co-funded during the years 2020 – 2021, “Training the Female Sport for All Leaders of Tomorrow” will be a flagship and launched in January 2020.

“Training the female Sport for All leaders of tomorrow” brings TAFISA together with 3 partners: the Olympic Committee of Slovenia Association of Sports Federations, European Network of Sport Education and African Union Sport Council Region 5. The project is designed to equip and empower a new generation of young women who are currently working (or volunteering) in Sport for All with the necessary skills, knowledge, experiences and guidance to lead the global Sport for All Movement. Through a comprehensive global mobility and mentoring scheme, the participants will strengthen their future employability and enhance their personal and professional development through the acquisition of new skills and knowledge gained through nonformal education and time spent in a foreign country.

The project activities are fourfold:

1. Individual mentoring – 10 African women will be paired with 10 European women and each duo will be assigned a mentor. Mentors and mentees meet in person during the first Semester of 2020, remotely every month, and will have to design a project to work on together;
2. Event management experience as all mentees will volunteer in the AUSC Region 5 Youth Games in Lesotho in December 2020;
3. Capacity building and training as participants will attend a tailored TAFISA Certified Leadership Course;
4. Knowledge and experience sharing while presenting project outcomes at the 27th TAFISA World Congress 2021 on 6 – 10 October 2021 in Slovenia.

The selection process of the mentees and mentors will be announced in the first weeks of 2020. The project’s sustainability will be ensured by the creation of a European – African Union “Women Leaders in Sport for All” network.

PACTE PROMOTING ACTIVE CITIES THROUGHOUT EUROPE

Project lead:
Sport and Citizenship (FR)

Period:
January 2018 - December 2020

- Partners:
- International Council for Sport, Science and Physical Education (Int)

Following a European survey on physical activity policies at municipal level in Europe, the partners (led by TAFISA) are now developing an online toolkit to support municipalities in taking steps for the happiness and well-being of their citizens. The toolkit will enable cities to design their "Active City action plan" and self-evaluate themselves, along with recommendations, case studies and good practices.

Keep Youngsters Involved aims to find answers to the question: "How can we prevent youngsters (12-19 years old) from dropout from sport?" In many European countries, a lot of youngsters give up sport due to a lack of motivation, problems with school schedule or conflicting interests. The project targeted youngsters in general and specifically those from lower socioeconomic backgrounds. The outcomes of the project which are applicable to sports clubs all over Europe were presented during the project's final conference in 2019.

ADVICE created a mobile application designed to reduce the prevalence of doping among young athletes in grassroots sports. Doping also happens at the grassroots level and this may be due to a lack of awareness of what constitutes banned substances, a lack of testing within grassroots sport, and athletes at this level having little comprehension of the dangers that banned substances pose to one's health. The project involved organisations with expertise in doping, coach education, pedagogy, psychology, policy, and behaviour change.
